Prepares Appeal to Senators

Urging Prompt Ratification of United Nations Peace Charter

By Ernest B. Vaccaro
KANSAS CITY, June 29.—(P)—President Truman worked today on a message urging prompt Senate ratification of the United Nations peace organization charter. Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference that the message "will be short, requiring about five minutes to read."

This development came after a speech last night in which the president put squarely up to the Senate what he termed the future peace of the world, and urged that the United States be the first nation to ratify the charter.

Although Capitol Hill sources in Washington reported the president will make a dramatic personal appearance before the Senate when the charter is submitted Monday, Ross would not confirm the report.

Ross said the president started work on the speech at 7:30 a. m. Central War Time at his home in nearby Independence before driving to the Federal building at 8:55 to meet a flood of callers.

He will attend a Luncheon Jesters club at noon and later in the day, (4 p. m. CWT) see former Kansas Gov. Alf M. Landon.

Must Have Charter

Unless the United States leads the way by ratification of the United Nations Charter and a world court, he declared, "there can be no peace in the world."

His solemn warning, voiced in a homecoming ceremony last night in which he received the honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Kansas City's law school increased speculation he may submit the charter to the Senate Monday in person.

"We are going to have to ratify this Constitution of San Francisco," the president declared. "And I want to say to the United States: Do it first."

Another flood of callers, including Eddie Jacobson with six white shirts, occupied most of President Truman's early morning visit to his federal building offices today.

More White Shirts

Jacobson, former haberdashery store partner of the president, showed up with the shirts he was unable to supply when the president called at his store yesterday.

"It took some maneuvering around," Jacobson told reporters, "and I got some red hot bow ties, too." The president also received a half dozen shirts today from Henry B. Bradley, St. Joseph, Mo., newspaper publisher, who had read the president yesterday had had difficulty ordering shirts from his old haberdashery partner.

Awaiting a visit from former Kansas governor Alf Landon later in the day, the president shook hands with scores of Missourians who called at his offices.

One of a series of moves to unite both parties and all factions behind non-partisan objectives, the meeting will take place in the president's temporary suite atop the Hotel Muehlebach. He later will attend a reception given for visiting newspapermen by the Kansas City Star.

In Kansas City Early

The president arrived at his offices in the Federal building at 8:55 a. m. Central War Time.

As he left his home, he stopped for a brief visit with Truston W. Kirby, treasurer of Jackson county and a neighbor of the Trumans.

One of President Truman's railers today, Robert T. Ragland, told reporters proudly that the president "is my second cousin."

Still another, the Rev. Carl F. Flipper, Negro Methodist minister, said he commended the president because "It is very noticeable that all of his meetings begin with prayer and close with benediction."

Furlough 4,000 Soldiers to RR

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(P)—The war department announced today that 4,000 soldiers will be furloughed for work on U. S. railroads "to prevent a breakdown of rail transportation" during redeployment of troops to the Pacific.

The soldiers, all experienced railroaders in civilian life, will be furloughed for a 30-day period. They will work as brakemen, locomotive firemen, boiler-makers, electricians, car repairmen, mechanics, machinists and helpers.

Undersecretary of War Patterson said the action was authorized in response to an "urgent appeal" from the railroads for aid in easing a "critical" labor situation.

Floral Cross at Pettis County Memorial Ceremony

The Cross of Roses at the Memorial Service held last Sunday night at the Coliseum on the State Fair Grounds, honoring the memory of those who died in service in World War II. Golden colored roses were placed on the cross for each one giving his life for his country, by the girls around the cross. The girls are left to right, front row, Susan Prowell, Sandra McLaughlin, Elizabeth Janssen and Esther Lou Powers; back row, Betty Urban, Ruth Ann Yunker, Genevieve Sullivan and Nicki Berthoff. ## Fuel Status About Same

KANSAS CITY, June 29.—(P)—A Senate committee investigating midwest fuel shortages heard today that the fuel situation next winter will be about the same as last, providing coal exports to England and Europe do not disrupt the entire distribution system.

Two committee members, Sen. Briggs (D-Mo.) and Sen. Reed (R-Kas.) were here for the hearing.

C. M. Douthat, vice president of the Sinclair Coal Co. of Kansas City, and other witnesses, testified that the public was not buying coal now, pointing out that many war workers hesitated to fill their bins because of the fear they will have to move to other jobs, and that mines were faced with the possibility of having to taper off production.

Douthat said the end of the war in Europe caused a greater demand for coal and that some Illinois and western Kentucky coal already had been shipped to Europe.

Operators, he said, have only a general idea of how much will be needed for export, but he estimated the figure might be as high as 10,000,000 tons.

If that amount is taken from the supply for this district, he said, there may be a big shortage here.

Have Priority Or Don't Fly

KANSAS CITY, June 29.—(P)—A direct move to discourage non-priority air travel on TWA routes west of Chicago and Kansas City was announced today by Jack Frye, president of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.

Frye said that because of heavily increasing war traffic "only high priority passengers can be sure of getting to their destinations" on transcontinental plane flights, whether east or west bound.

TWA officials said that west of the Mississippi, non-priority seat reservations made days or weeks in advance, were being declined until approximately five hours before flight time on 16 of their 24 daily transcontinental flights.

To Discontinue Rationing New Cars

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(P)—Rationing of used 1942 automobiles will be discontinued July 2. They have been rationed since March 6, 1942. New 1942 cars remain under rationing.

In announcing its action today, OPA said dealers were experiencing difficulty in trying to sell used 1942 models to ration-holders because many of the cars have had more mileage and harder use than some of the earlier models.

Republican Senator for Peace Charter

Tells Colleagues Acceptance is Brave Experiment

By Jack Bell
WASHINGTON, June 29.—(P)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told his colleagues today they must accept the United Nations Charter as a brave experiment or cheat the world of "its only collective chance" for peace.

In a vigorous endorsement of the San Francisco conference agreement for formation of an international organization, the chairman of the Republican senatorial conference called the pledges hewn out here "a new emancipation proclamation for the world."

Before the tall Michigan senator took the floor, Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican steering committee, said he and others are thinking of trying to write into the ratification resolution limitations on the authority Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., will wield as American delegate on the proposed world security council.

No Alternative

Speaking from a prepared manuscript, Vandenberg said he would support the charter "in the deep conviction that the alternative is physical and moral chaos in many weary places of the earth."

"I shall do it because there must be no default in our pledged purpose to outlaw aggression so far as lies within our human power," he declared. "I shall do it because this plan, regardless of infirmities, holds great promise that the United Nations may collaborate for peace as effectively as they have made common cause for war."

"I shall do it because peace must not be cheated out of its only, collective chance, x x x I doubt if there could ever be another or better start."

Vandenberg who helped draft the charter as an American delegate, said the pacific settlement of disputes, not force, is the real genius of the charter, adding:

No Escape By Any Power

"It is my profound belief that the pacific contacts and consultations which will constantly be maintained by the powers—and particularly the great powers—plus the pacific routines which every dispute must exhaust before it is subject to any sort of sanctions, can resolve most, if not all, of the controversies which otherwise might lead once more to war."

Under the organization's formula, there could be no escape by any power from organized opinion of the world, he said, adding that "the self-confessed criminal of tomorrow will stand condemned."

Vandenberg said some would contend that even a good league could not compensate for a bad peace.

Deadlocked In Dispute

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., June 29.—(P)—The OPA and city officials remained deadlocked today in their dispute over the city's refusal to allow OPA agents to inspect a frozen food locker until they submit to a physical examination required by ordinance.

George L. Robertson, OPA enforcement attorney for the St. Louis district, said last night "I don't know what action we will take now." Some decision will probably be made today, he indicated.

The city health engineer, Claude E. Murray, ordered two OPA inspectors out of the locker food plant Thursday because he said they did not have food handlers' certificates required by city ordinance.

The OPA obtained a federal court order Wednesday directing the owners of the locker to permit inspection and the order was served by a federal deputy marshal yesterday. However, Murray said he asked the marshal if the order applied to him also and was told it did not.

"Therefore I shall continue to insist that the OPA men obtain health cards before they attempt to examine the contents of these lockers," the health officer asserted.

Murray said the two inspectors were in the locker plant when the marshal served his order but after hearing Murray's conversation with the officer they did not try to go ahead with their investigation.

Murray left last night for Kansas City to attend a meeting of city health authorities. Chief of Police Will Sims said the health officer left specific instructions with him not to permit anyone to enter the food locker and handle foodstuffs unless they have health certificates.

"The OPA agents," said Sims at shortly before noon, "have made no further attempts to check contents of the lockers. I think they are awaiting instructions from the St. Louis office."

Release 2,200 At War Plant

EAST ALTON, Ill., June 29.—(P)—A readjustment in small arms production resulting in the release of 2,200 of its 2,900 employees in a three month period at the Western Cartridge company, was announced by the war department today.

Termination of the manufacture of 30 caliber cartridges and a 67 per cent reduction in the output of 30 caliber carbine ammunition July 31 was caused by the change from a two-front to a one-front war, the announcement stated.

A company official said civilian production at the plant, a division of Olin Industries, Inc., "will absorb a considerable number of the workers scheduled to be released from military production."

The civilian production of commercial ammunition, brass products and similar items has been awaiting the availability of sufficient personnel, the official said. No figure was given on the number of employees to be retained for civilian work.

War manpower commission interviewers will be stationed at the plant to direct released employees to other war plants in the St. Louis area.

More Troops Arrive Today

NEW YORK, June 29.—(P)—The Queen Elizabeth, world's largest ocean liner, carrying more than 15,000 passengers including 13,658 American troops, will dock here today.

The ship also is carrying 1,202 navy personnel, 442 army nurses, and seven civilians.

Most of the army troops are members of 8th air force ground crews and hospital units.

Excitement Kills Mother

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 29.—(P)—Mrs. Mae Salts, 52, was dead today of what her physician described as excitement at news that her son, Lt. (jg) Allen Salts, was on his way home after completing 70 flying missions in the South Pacific. He arrived after she died.

Six White Shirts to Truman

ST. JOSEPH, June 29.—(P)—When Henry D. Bradley read this morning that President Truman was unable to get three white shirts 1½ size and 33 inch sleeve he called a merchant friend here, acquiring six shirts, according to specifications, and sent them by special messenger to the president at Kansas City today.

Mr. Bradley had been a guest in the White House on an eastern trip some weeks ago and upon his return to St. Joseph he received an autographed picture of the president. He is the publisher of the News-Press here.

"I am happy to be the medium of bringing two famous Missourians together through the law of supply and demand," said Mr. Bradley. "Our good friend J. C. Penney through his St. Joseph manager permits me to get shirts for the distinguished gentleman from Independence, Mo., the president."

Powerful Base in Liberated P. I. Will Help Knockout Japs

By Ernest B. Vaccaro
KANSAS CITY, June 29.—(P)—President Truman predicted today a powerful base being fashioned in the liberated Philippines will play a part "in the final knockout blow against Japan."

In a message to Gen. Douglas MacArthur congratulating him upon the successful conclusion of the Luzon campaign, the president said:

"With the complete defeat of the enemy on Luzon you have swept them from all the Philippines and redeemed the promises of the American people to the loyal Filipino people."

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross also announced the president has signed an executive order formally transferring the functions of the war food administration to agriculture secretary Clinton P. Anderson, in conformity with the plans disclosed some weeks ago.

The text of the president's message follows:

"My most sincere congratulations to you and your command for the successful conclusion of the Luzon campaign. With the complete defeat of the enemy on Luzon you have swept them from all the Philippines and redeemed the promises of the American people to the loyal Filipino people."

"All Americans are happy that victory has been won with the lowest possible loss in lives. I am confident that the powerful base that we are fashioning in the Philippines will play its full part in the final knockout blow in the war against Japan and restore the world to peace, freedom and sanity."

Corporal at SAAF Killed In Jeep Wreck

Cpl. Melvin L. Applewhite, 22, Negro soldier at the Sedalia Army Air Field, was killed almost instantly about 9:15 o'clock Thursday night, when a jeep in which he was riding went off the road on a curve about three miles west of LaMonte. Pvt. Charles M. Fletcher was driver of the car and Pvt. Thomas Moore another occupant. Both are stationed at the SAAF.

Cpl. Applewhite's home was in Bassville, Miss.

According to highway patrolmen Peter Stohr and Lloyd Amos, who made an investigation at the scene of the wreck, the driver apparently lost control of the jeep going around the curve. The vehicle traveled 60 feet before it hit a fence, then rolled 90 feet, turning over several times landing on the side. The occupants were thrown out when it turned over the first time and Cpl. Applewhite's head was crushed. Pvt. Fletcher suffered cuts on one arm, necessitating five stitches. Pvt. Moore had only minor bruises.

The jeep was wrecked and towed to the base.

Lt. Doyle, provost marshal of the Sedalia Army Air Field, also made an investigation of the wreck.

Mrs. Stevens is Responsible

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 29.—(P)—Coroner Theodore E. Steiber today found Mrs. Imogene Stevens, 24, criminally responsible for the death by shooting of Albert Kovacs, 19, submarine sailor, whom the army major's wife shot and killed in the home of a neighbor in New Canaan late Saturday night.

The coroner said that statements furnished by police indicated that Mrs. Stevens was "under the influence of liquor and under a high emotional strain" when she fired three shots into the Norwalk youth's body but asserted that the intoxicated condition of Mrs. Stevens does not absolve her from a charge of manslaughter.

Steiber reported chemical analysis on Albert's body showed he, too, was "definitely under the influence of liquor."

From statements made to police by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milton, in whose home, adjoining that of the Stevens residence, the shooting occurred, it would appear, said Steiber, that "an illicit love had existed between Mrs. Stevens and Mr. Milton which caused the Milton home to be broken up for a number of months."

Child Grieves Over Lost Dog

PORTLAND, Ore., June 29.—(P)—Food still held little interest today for three-year-old Johnny Palmore, grieving over his lost dog but the cat who joined Johnny in a hunger strike has decided to resume three meals a day.

The boy, who with the big black cat kept a three-day foodless vigil on the front stoop, ate only a little soup and "fussed around with some orange juice and cookies" yesterday, A. J. Palmore, his father, reported.

"I came home to find his toy box half full of bones he's been saving for Bingo," said his father. Mixed enticingly with the bones were some pieces of cookie. But Bingo still was missing.

Superforts Over Four Jap Cities

Tokyo Reports Building Arsenal To Withstand Protracted War

GUAM, Saturday, June 30.—(P)—In the fourth American superfortress attack mission of the week against the Japanese homeland, 50 B-29s struck the important Kuumatsu refining plant of the Nippon oil company on the southwestern Honshu coast shortly before midnight last night.

The raid came while huge fires still burned in Japan's great shipbuilding center of Sasebo and three other industrial cities after nearly 500 superforts rained 3,000 tons of fire bombs on prime targets.

By Leonard Millman
Associated Press War Editor

Fires so fierce they glowed through the clouds were lighted by nearly 500 Superforts today in four more cities of southern Japan, which Tokyo said was seeing "a curtain raiser to the decisive battle of the Japanese mainland."

Flight of Nipponese war industry from the B-29 haunted home islands to Manchuria has reached a "large scale," radio Tokyo reported, under a plan of building up a mainland arsenal "capable of withstanding a protracted war."

American warplanes sank or damaged 27 more Nipponese vessels, all of them needed for this mass migration. China-based bombers and fighters, turning the attack on transportation to the mainland, knocked out 214 rivercraft, wrecked 40 locomotives and blew up two munition trains. Chinese reported recapture of the former U. S. air drome at Linchow in southeast China, which would permit increasing these blows.

Worried About Invasion

Enemy broadcasts said "full dress air raids" from ten fields on Okinawa are being flown almost daily against Kyushu, southernmost island of Nippon and site of most B-29 targets today. Kyushu has been converted into "an impregnable fortress," broadcasters reported, but they worried about increased American power in Alaska and possible invasion of their "sacred land" from the north.

A primary and one of the hottest pre-dawn B-29 targets in today's 3,000 ton incendiary raid was Sasebo on western Kyushu, one of Nippon's four major naval bases and only sea guardian of the route to Manchuria. American and Japanese reports did not agree on just what cities were hit, although all reports said roaring fires were started.

Listed Targets

The 21st bomber command listed targets as Sasebo, Moji, coal shipping port on Kyushu island and southern terminus of a submarine tunnel to Honshu island; Nobeoka, whose four basic chemical plants make it a military explosive production center; and Okayama, airplane parts manufacturing center.

Nipponese reports omitted mention of Nobeoka and added Kanoya, important port on Kyushu at the southern tip of Japan; and Shimomoseki, on Honshu island across a narrow strait from Moji.

It was the first incendiary attack on Sasebo and the first B-29 strike at the other cities. At least 18 Japanese cities have now been hit by the big bombers. Only one failed to return from today's strike, the third in four days.

Fleet air wing one, which has knocked out 250,000 tons of enemy shipping since it began ranging over Japanese homeland waters, made the largest bag of the sea-air hunt. Its patrol planes sank eight and damaged eight ships between Korea and Japan. Other vessels were bagged from the Ryukyus islands to Indo-China.

Merry-Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, June 29—When Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton started a senate committee by telling how German companies were still operating in South America, one of the most sensational parts of the story was omitted.

This was the fact that certain American business groups have been angling with German companies to cooperate with them again—even despite the bitter experiences of the recent war.

What some U. S. companies do not seem to realize is that with the war still on, all cables and letters are subject to censorship. Therefore, U. S. officials know almost every move they have made to get together with German agents.

For instance, certain U. S. wood pulp interests have been under the impression that they have been extremely clever in staging meetings with the Germans. But their movements are known. Also certain U. S. rayon and steel groups have been sending agents to meet with the Germans in Argentina and Spain.

The other day a representative of the German Schering corporation, biggest drug company in Germany, brazenly walked into the American embassy in Madrid with a proposition that the Spanish subsidiary of Schering merge with the American Schering corporation of Bloomfield, N. J. In this case the proposition was turned down.

The minutes of the Dupont company's executive committee for Feb. 9, 1940 (after the war had broken out in Germany) contains this notation:

"The Dupont company informed I. G. (I. G. Farbenindustrie, the great German cartel) that they intended to use their good offices after the war to have the I. G. participation restored."

There is no indication that Dupont has taken any step to carry out this goal since the war with Germany ended. But the above illustrates a point of view which prevailed among several business groups before the war and apparently has still not been abandoned by all of them.

King Leopold Wants Lift

Allied diplomats are not talking about it, but King Leopold of the Belgians has been angling desperately for British and American help in returning from Salzburg, Austria, to Brussels. He has especially asked that one of the Allies furnish him an airplane.

This put the British in a hot position. Once before they did not hesitate about interfering in Belgian politics, even surrounding the Belgian parliament with tanks in order to influence an important vote. But this time, faced with the threat of a general strike if Leopold returned, the British passed the buck.

They told the King of the Belgians that all airplanes are under Shaeft (supreme headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force) which of course is commanded by General Eisenhower. However, the British and American commanders under Eisenhower (he has been in the USA) then got together backstage and worked out a joint plan — namely to give Leopold transportation only to the Belgian border.

From the Belgian border to Brussels, he will have to take a Belgian plane, train or thumb his way.

Note — Maj. Gen. George W. E. J. Erskine, British commander in Brussels, has informed Belgian officials that Shaeft would not take sides in any demonstrations, street battles or brawls precipitated by Leopold's return, but would confine itself to protecting Allied installations.

It's Fun to Be a Prisoner of the Yanks

Center spread of a leaflet used by the U. S. Army to induce Japs to surrender, prepared by the Army's Psychological Warfare Branch and the OWI, is shown above. It shows Jap prisoners taking care of a flower garden; hospital patients playing a game; prisoners working in vegetable garden; Nips pouring tea, and a smiling Jap who seems well satisfied with his plight. Faces in photo are censored to protect prisoners' families.

GI's Say: Turn Uncle Joe Loose In China--and Let Him Pitch!

By Harry Grayson
NEA Staff Correspondent

CALCUTTA—When a GI shows concern for a general that's something. The Yanks out here ask all kinds of questions about Lt. Gen. Joseph W. "Vinegar" Joe Stilwell, now commander of 10th Army forces on Okinawa.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. "Uncle Joe" Stilwell... a legend has been built up around him.

They regard him with the greatest affection and respect.

The boys ask you: "How's Uncle Joe doing with the brass hats back home? I hear the old so-and-so really cleaned out that Pentagon building."

"Will he lead the invasion of China? It would be a pity if he didn't."

General Stilwell invaded North Burma with the Chinese 38th and 22nd Divisions he trained at Rangarh, India. He made his biggest coffee shopper and our best friend in Latin America, is finding it so uneconomical to grow coffee that she is turning to cotton. In that case she would be our chief competitor instead of our chief customer.

Labor costs in Brazil have risen to such an extent that Brazilian coffee growers can't produce at the OPA ceiling price which averages around 13 cents a pound. They want the price boosted to an average of 18 cents a pound. This would increase the cost of a cup of coffee one-eighth of a cent.

The state department favors such a price rise. The OPA, anxious to hold the line, is opposed.

Radio Problems at Frisco

Painstaking, grey haired Michael McDermott has handled a score of important diplomatic conferences. But the San Francisco parley probably has given him more grey hairs than any other.

One contributor was mild mannered Judge Roy Hofheinz, former municipal court judge of Houston, Texas, the first man to buck Jesse Jones' radio monopoly in Houston. At San Francisco, Hofheinz carried a small wire recorder, an instrument about the size of a portable typewriter which records conversations.

Much to the annoyance of the efficient McDermott, Hofheinz brought his recorder to press conferences and made a record of everything diplomats had to say. Because of off-the-record statements made by U. S. diplomats, McDermott was afraid Hofheinz might broadcast some of his recordings, thus revealing secrets to the public.

So every time McDermott spotted Hofheinz at a press conference, he made a beeline for the ex-judge of Houston. Finally, it was agreed that Hofheinz could record any press conference if the individual being interviewed agreed. McDermott did not expect any such permission to be given.

So in the middle of one momentous press conference staged by Soviet Commissar Molotov, McDermott suddenly saw Judge Hofheinz operating his recorder. Every word the Soviet commissar said was being taken down on paper for the people of Houston to hear. Alarmed, McDermott ordered the Texan to leave the room, surprise, with airplanes on deck.

famous proclamation at Imphal on May 21, 1942: "We took a helluva beating. It was humiliating as hell. We ought to find out why it happened and go back."

The doughy general couldn't get the ammunition to the men, so he took the men to the ammunition. The 38th and 22nd were flown to Rangarh and, when equipped and ready, flown back into action again.

General Stilwell and his men annihilated one of the crack outfits of the Jap army, the 18th Division, conquerors of Singapore. The Stilwell campaign culminated in the capture of Myitkyina, which opened a shorter air route over the Hump of the Himalayas. In this campaign the "left-hookers," as Gen. Sultan calls them—storm troops who spearheaded the way—were Maj. Gen. Frank Merrill's illustrious Marauders. They were volunteers from the Southwest Pacific and Panama, the first U. S. ground troops used on the Asiatic continent.

General Stilwell was recalled at the demand of Chiang Kai-shek because he was more concerned about fighting Japs than Chinese Communists. The GI's recall his last words upon being recalled from his China-India command: "I wasn't perfect out here, but damn it, I never sold America short." This story is GI gospel.

With General Stilwell in command, GI's assure you the Chinese effort would be intensified. They say the 38th and 22nd Divisions, the best troops in the Chinese army, have a great love for General Stilwell, who paid many visits to hospitals to see the Chinese Ping, or GI. The substance of one letter to the India-Burma Theater Roundup, official GI organ in this part of the world, was: "We will never refueling. At such critical moments when a carrier is about to launch planes, her own air protection is supposed to be more alert than ever. The Jap plane which wounded the Franklin was not a suicider, but a regular bomber which carefully placed two bombs where they would do greatest damage.

Furthermore, Molotov was so intrigued with the recorder that he ordered one for himself.

Note — Before Hofheinz departed from San Francisco, several hundred of the machines had been ordered by foreign governments.

Merry-Go-Round

Senator Carl Hatch of New Mexico has been sitting on the anti-poll tax bill until the San Francisco United Nations charter is out of the way. He does not want a poll-tax filibuster to upset ratification of the charter. . . . Fortnightly Fred Vinson, the war mobilizer, is going to be put on the spot soon by the surplus war property board. It is about to hatch a rule whereby $11,000,000, 000 of government-owned war plants and machinery would be sold merely on the basis of price, not on the basis of where they could stimulate business and competition. . . . If the surplus board has its way, war plants, machinery, etc., will go to the Duponts, General Motors, Ford, and others with the most cash to buy them.

Despite Roosevelt's policy of aiding small business, war orders were concentrated in fewer companies than ever before. Six companies got about 60 per cent of all the war business, and 100 firms got approximately 90 per cent. . . . Unsung heroes of the airplane carrier Franklin's rescue were Capt. John Gingrich, skipper of the cruiser Pittsburgh, and his executive officer, Ed Rivers. Capt. Leslie Gehrs of the Franklin expressed astonishment that the Pittsburgh kept its towline on the burning airplane carrier with Jap suiciders hitting at both. . . . The answer is that for over 37 hours, Gingrich remained on the bridge, with Rivers assigned to the fantail to watch the towline. Neither had a moment's sleep during those 37 hours. Their only thought was to retrieve the crippled ship from Jap waters.

When the final story of the Franklin is told — if it is — it will reveal some peculiar circumstances by which a Jap bomber was able to catch the Franklin by surprise, with airplanes on deck.

Chinese soldiers have a great love for General Stilwell, who trained them to fight the Japs.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Ralph Dow of the Georgetown neighborhood and Thomas Dyer, who lives north of the city, brought the first new wheat to the city last Wednesday and sold the grain to the Sedalia Milling company. Mr. Dow's wheat was first class, grading No. 2 and he received 78 cents per bushel. Mr. Dyer's graded No. 3 and brought 73 cents per bushel.

New Pettis county potatoes, fully matured, were offered on the market at 30 cents per bushel this morning, with no buyers. One farmer brought in a wagonload, which he could not sell and he declared he would haul them back and feed them to the hogs.

J. M. Offield has sold to J. H. Baker 46 1/2 acres of land just west of Liberty park for $14,000.

The "sidewalk social" given by the ladies of the First M. E. church last night, on the sidewalk on the north and east sides of the church netted them about $30.

Joseph Kuykendall, living near Ottaville, accompanied by his two sons, was in the city yesterday to see Deputy County Clerk M. L. Imhoff, to whom Kuykendall went to school 30 years ago.

$2,275,000 For Direct Relief

Approved By Conferees Of State Legislature

JEFFERSON CITY, June 29—(AP)—Missouri's weary representatives shoved the last big obstacle from their summer vacation path Thursday night by adopting a compromise direct relief allotment of $2,275,000.

The vote was 102-0, sending the bill to the senate for action tomorrow.

Rep. R. J. King, Jr., of Franklin county, house appropriations committee chairman, drew no argument when he called for approval of the conference committee compromise figure. Earlier he had blocked a $2,350,000 proposal.

The senate is expected to take up the relief cudgels soon after it convenes at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

In that body's storm signal was hoisted by Sen. Ralph Edrwin (R) of Concordia, who refused to sign the conference report and said he might submit a minority finding. Originally the senate plumped for a relief allotment of $2,700,000—a full $700,000 over the amount first approved by the house.

Passage of a bill carrying $2,275,000 for general assistance would raise the session's total general fund appropriations for the next fiscal year to $39,234,438 and make it one of the heaviest spending legislatures Missouri ever had.

That total includes $815,953 in deficiency appropriations not properly chargeable to next year's allocations.

In addition the assembly has voted to set aside $16,000,000 as a postwar reserve.

For 1943, state agencies spent $29,232,967 of general fund money and in 1944 the total reported by the state auditor was $34,142,237.

The relief tangle popped up while both branches were struggling through a stifling hot day to clear their calendars of "must" legislation before starting a scheduled two month vacation tomorrow. When they return next September, revision of laws to conform with the state's new constitution will have top priority.

Pastor Drowns In Aiding Rescue

ST. LOUIS, June 29—(P)—The Rev. Cecil Jesse, pastor of the Metzel Memorial Baptist church of Kirkwood, drowned in the Meramec river Thursday while assisting an eight-year-old boy to safety from their overturned canoe.

The boy, William Word, and his two brothers, Edward, 11, and Howell Word, Jr., 16, who were also in the canoe, were later taken to safety by a fisherman who rowed to the scene of the capsizing.

Howell told Kirkwood police he and his brothers are all good swimmers. The craft overturned, he said, when Rev. Jesse arose to change places with one of the boys. Howell and his brothers swam to the overturned canoe and grasped its sides. Then Rev. Jesse started to swim ashore with William. They had gone only a few feet, Howell said, when the minister suddenly sank and did not reappear.

Rev. Jesse's body was recovered six hours after the accident. He was 35.

Situation Viewed With Limited Optimism

WE FLEW Without GUNS

This is a true story of the men who fly the "hump"—carrying passengers and cargo over the high Himalayas, between India and China. Pilots call it the toughest airline route in the world.

OUT OF THIS WORLD XVII

SO far as is known, no white man ever before had seen the part of the world where Rosbert and Hammel crashed in their ice-encrusted plane; and surely no two men of any color or creed ever had a closer scrape with death. As I got the story during its many retellings at the cottage before Rosbert headed back to the States to recover his health and a bone-setting job done on his shattered ankle, his plane took on a double load of ice when he tried to get back to Dinjan.

He kept gathering ice, and at last, out of the grayness beyond his windshield, a mountain peak virtually leaped at him. Instinctively, Rosbert swung hard on the controls to veer away, but it was too late. An instant later there was a terrific crash, and a jolt that snapped his right ankle like a matchstick and broke the neck of poor Li Wong, the Chinese boy who had been my radio operator until that morning. Ridge Hammel's right ankle was badly sprained—making it pretty evident that no right rudder had ever been kicked harder by pilot and co-pilot together.

For three days the two men lived in the shelter of their mangled cabin, Rosbert in an agony of pain from his broken ankle. Hammel of little use to himself or his friend because of his own injury as well as the intense subzero cold that threatened to freeze them to death before the still-raging blizzard had died down. They hadn't even the strength to bury poor Li, but could only spread out his parachute and lay it over his body. On the third day, when their emergency rations were just about gone, the storm cleared and Hammel dragged himself out of the ship to discover that they were within crawling distance of a steep, snow-packed decline. Studying the terrain below, Hammel noticed that the slope continued for several miles before reaching the scrubby black fringe of the timber line. He saw a chance for them to cover that entire distance without using their feet at all. He crawled back to the plane, explained his plan to Rosbert, and between them they bandaged their ankles with strips of parachute silk. Then they tore up a couple of floorboards from the plane's cabin and set out on probably the most colossal sleigh ride in the history of that sport.

All day long the two boys worked their way down the mountain from one ice-capped ridge to another. They would crawl on hands and knees from the foot of one decline to the top of another, then mount their individual "sleds," and, pushing over the edge, drop hundreds of yards in a few breathtaking seconds.

ROSBERT had a pocket compass with him, and after they reached the timber line they held to a course roughly southwest, figuring that it would take them—if they lived long enough—to the neighborhood of Dinjan. There was a hundred miles between them and the field, however, the unexplored, unmapped territory of the Mishimi Hills, which are inhabited by aboriginal tribes of Mishimi-ites.

It was almost two weeks after Rosbert and Hammel crashed on the mountain peak that they crawled into a clearing and saw a small mud hut with a wisp of smoke curling out through a hole in the thatched roof.

The Mishimi-ites, whenever he had heard them mentioned before, had always been referred to as head-hunters, but they showed no inclination to decapitate Rosbert and Hammel. In fact they grew to like their guests, and were much impressed by the white men's watches, cigaret lighters and the zippers on their tattered flying jackets. When Rosbert produced a mechanical pencil and started drawing pictures on a piece of bark, showing an airplane flying through the air and crashing into a mountain, his fame spread through the hills like wildfire. Men, women and children from other tribes came to see these wonders. Finally, one day, a young boy came, an unusually bright-looking youngster, and after watching Joe draw pictures for a while he tried to explain that he wasn't satisfied with that; he wanted something different, something better. He pointed to Joe and then to the bark. Then he said the Mishimi word for "name"—which was one of the 200 words Joe and Ridge picked up during their month with the tribe—and Ridge laughed and said, "Hell, Joe, he wants your autograph."

Joe wrote his name on the bark and the boy got all excited. He was impatient to get his hands on it. Joe was just about to give it to him when it dawned on him what this bright youngster had in mind. In a fever of excitement he tore off the corner of a map he had brought with him, and wrote more words, explaining who he and Hammel were and telling what had happened to them. The boy grabbed the paper and ran from the hut. Four days later he returned with a letter from the officer in command of a British scouting force saying that supplies were on their way and a medical officer would soon follow.

Mrs. C. L. Carter, 800 South Beacon avenue, entertained at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening in honor of Miss Mary Katherine Dowdy who will be married next week to Pvt. Bert Williams.

The home was decorated throughout with regal lilies and sweetpeas.

Guests received miniature lace umbrellas bearing small cards on which were written "Mary Katherine and Bert—July 6, 1945." The tiny umbrellas hung from the tips of a large crepe paper umbrella which formed part of the decorations.

The evening was spent playing bingo and rummy, after which Miss Dowdy was asked to sit in a chair and the old fashioned game of heavy, heavy hangs over your head was played in a new way with a verse describing each gift being read and the bride to be required to guess what it was, or perform some stunt suggested by the guest who brought the gift. She was able to guess each gift, however, and did not have to do any stunts.

Mrs. Carter was assisted by Mrs. H. C. Sammons in serving refreshments to the following guests: Miss Dowdy, Mrs. Ruth E. Ruffin, Miss Mary Lou Nevils, Mrs. Leona Schouten, Mrs. Ann Kiceina, Miss Juanita Pervical, Miss Betty Jo Bishop, Miss Elma Marshall, Miss Mary Helen Meyer, Miss Kathryn Schroeder, Miss Merle Bohling and Mrs. G. Guests were Mrs. James Atkinson, Mrs. A. A. Ferguson and Mrs. H. C. Sammons.

Miss Truman Unchanged to Her Friends

"Miss Margaret Truman, only daughter of President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman, is spending her vacation in Independence in the same fashion as she has in previous years," states the Independence Examiner. Continuing the article reads:

"Much of her time is occupied with music lessons, which she takes from Mrs. J. C. Story, pianist of Independence, and Mrs. T. J. Strickler, vocal teacher in Kansas City. Miss Truman sings in the choir of Trinity church and attends choir practice regularly. Recently, when she was asked to sing the soprano solo in one of the numbers, Miss Truman agreed reluctantly, not wanting any added publicity.

"Many relatives of the Trumans and close friends have given luncheons honoring Miss Truman. There is a standing joke between Margaret and Miss Florence Carvin, who manages the Women's City Club in Kansas City. Miss Truman, who prefers chocolate ice cream to all other desserts usually jokingly inquires whether it's included on the menu for that day.

"Miss Truman has gotten in touch with all her close girl friends, and completely unchanged, has asked them to go downtown with her to shop or attend shows. She dodges as much publicity as possible and refuses to believe that people really are interested in what she wears, eats and does. Miss Truman has the usual amount of dates with boys that she has grown up with. She is the first person to laugh at funny tales that people remember about her childhood, and usually adds, "Don't tell that to any reporter."

"Miss Truman has a faculty for remembering people's names and for making anyone feel at ease. She knows her current events and the background of political issues."

Chino-Russian Meeting is of Importance

Results May Have Bearing on Countries' Future

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

War produces strange compromises and affiliations—as witness the Chinese mission which is reported to be on its way from Chungking to Moscow under the leadership of Premier T. V. Soong, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's brilliant brother-in-law (Harvard '15), who recently returned home from the San Francisco Security Conference.

Like everything else Oriental, there's considerable mystery attached to the Soong enterprise. However, it's clear enough that such a Chino-Russian meeting may prove to be of far-reaching international importance. It's easy to see that it could have a great bearing on Russia's post-war influence in Asia, and might strongly affect China's political future.

Be that as may, speculation has it that Premier Soong may try to create a mutual aid pact which would bring Russia into the war against Japan. One also notes that Soong has been endeavoring to settle the dangerous and often bloody quarrel between Chiang Kai-shek's government and the great body of Chinese Communists in northern China, and it's reasonable to assume that this will be a major item in the Moscow parley.

Situation Eased
As previously reported in this column, when I was in Chungking in '43 impartial observers generally believed that the quarrel between the Chinese Reds and the Chiang government likely would be settled by civil war. Recently the situation seems to have eased somewhat as the result of negotiations and offers of reform by the central government. Still, it's less than four months ago that the Chinese Communists were calling Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek a despot and were demanding his removal and punishment. Significantly, at the same time the Moscow press was supporting these "demands for liquidation of the Kuomintang dictatorship" and creation of a coalition government.

It's difficult to believe that Premier Soong could achieve agreement for Russian aid against Japan unless he provided assurances that Chinese Communism would get its place in the sun. Such assurances would be a lever with which vast China and its five hundred millions of people could be turned topsy-turvy politically.

Several Powerful Armies

The millions of Chinese Communists are in the northern part of the country near Russian territory. They have several numerically powerful armies in the field—ostensibly to fight the Japanese but also to keep a weather eye on Generalissimo Chiang's forces.

Suppose the Soviet Union should decide to throw its aid to the Allies in the war against Japan, and should give help in the form of military supplies shipped across the border into China.

Those supplies presumably would go largely to the neighboring Chinese northern armies—which are the Red forces. Obviously this would place them in a powerful position for bargaining with Chiang-Kai-shek. Obviously, too, this would enhance Russia's prestige in China.

Of course all this is speculative, but whatever may come out of the Soong visit to Moscow, of this we may be sure: We soon shall see an expansion of Soviet influence in the Orient. Just as the Red tide is moving across Europe, so is it going to reach out into China and other Asiatic countries. It's a geographical "natural."

That's not to suggest Russia is looking for territorial expansion. However, she may be expected to push her political influence.

Negro Yanks Land on Guam

GUAM, June 29—(AP)—American Negro troops landed on six small islands in the northern Marianas and brought them under American domination with a single pistol shot, Pacific fleet headquarters announced today.

It was purely a reconnoitering operation to locate more areas where crippled superforts could crash land while limping back raids on Japan. Reconnoitering troops left no holding force behind after discovering Japanese didn't have a garrison on any of the islands.

The operation was carried out by two platoons of Negro infantrymen, aided by native guides and Japanese captives who promised their compatriots good treatment in the hands of Americans. The "naval force" consisted of a destroyer escort, and two 153 foot LCI's (landing craft, infantry).

Combat Casualties

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP)—Combat casualties of the armed forces since the beginning of the war reached 1,030,679 today, a rise of 7,226 within the past week. Army losses on the basis of the names received here through June 21 amounted to 908,025 and navy casualties totaled 122,654.

Enemy Speeds up Production

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29—(AP)—Japan announced today it was closing even "necessary" industries to step up war production and boasted that the anticipated American invasion of the homeland would be repulsed by an array of suicide weapons that would create "world-wide amazement."

Charge 13-Year Old With Murder

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 29.—(P)—District Attorney Charles R. Alberti today ordered a murder charge brought against 13-year-old Earl V. Laurie in the death of his sister, Hazel, 6, reduced to manslaughter, but said charges of rape and incest would be brought against the boy.

Hazel suffocated in an unused refrigerator a week ago after, police chief Raymond P. Gallagher said, she had climbed into it and her brother had slammed the door. He said the boy had confessed to raping the girl earlier the same day. Gallagher said Earl had confessed to illicit relations with another sister, nine years old.

Sunday School Lesson

The Linking of God With Man is the Intelligent Basis of True Religion. Scripture: Genesis Chapters 1 and 2

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
"God saw everything that He had made, and behold it was very good." This verse in Genesis 1:31 is an excellent keynote for this lesson.

If we could see creation as God saw it, we too would know that it is very good. We see it marred by what man has done to himself, to his fellowmen and even to the world in which he lives. With infinite capacity for building beautifully and well, he has been too often content to live in hovels, or to let others live there.

There are problems associated with the ugly and cruel and evil things. Tennyson wrote of "Nature red in tooth and claw," though he wrote, also, of the trust that "somehow good will be the final goal of ill."

"That nothing walks with aimless feet,
That not one life shall be destroyed;
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete."

However these things may be, this lesson bids us contemplate God's joy in creation and the great and beautiful things that God has provided for man. Bitter controversies have raged around the Genesis story of creation, but we should not allow these to mar for us the beauty of this poem of creation, or to obscure in any way its essential truth, which is: (1)

That mind and purpose and creative will are back of the universe. The world didn't just happen. "In the beginning, God" (2) That the creative process was a bringing of order out of chaos. Law and order are of the very essence of God's work and will for man.

The Genesis writer, with magnificent vision, faith, and daring, links the Creator with man, made in the image and likeness of God, with the capacity of being himself a maker, or creator. "God made man in His own image." "Every house is built by some man, but He that built all things is God." This linking of man with God is logical and sound, and it is the intelligent basis of all true religion. It is a commonplace of our faith today; but surely it was an inspired man who first perceived and uttered it.

When one thinks or speaks of the beauty of God's world, one does not know where to begin. First is the beauty of that order and law by which the universe is upheld—planets moving so truly in their orbit that astronomers can define every movement for years ahead. Next is the beauty of the moral law, the things that pertain to man's integrity and relationship to his fellowmen. And manifold is the beauty of man's environment—skies and clouds, the starry heavens, green fields and gorgeous trees and flowers, vast oceans, and pure rippling brooks, the beauty that man himself has created in art and literature, and in all the works of his hands that mark his kinship with God.

The Mentally Ill

There was a time when even doctors looked upon psychiatry as merely a new-fangled fad. But today psychiatry is playing a vital part in the treatment of the nervously ill. It does not however, preempt the entire field of psychotherapy. Very often not only physicians but wise and skilled clergymen are being called to aid persons once off-handedly dismissed as "selfish," "ornery," or "just a little bit crazy."

It is now well established that in the treatment of the mentally ill-adjusted, medicine and religion can play a cooperative part. This will be even more apparent as thousands of war-shocked veterans return home.

The neurotic patient should be encouraged to discover every possible spiritual aid. This may be difficult in the case of those who have never given much thought to religion, or who may be frankly skeptical. But it should be a challenge rather than a discouragement to the physician or pastor, especially since so many have found in religion the consolation and inspiration they most needed.

Even men who are well-adjusted mentally and physically find deep sources of strength and courage in religious truths, and that being the case, it becomes abundantly evident that those who have a much greater need should be all the more encouraged to seek spiritual help.

It may be accepted as a highly probable, if not readily confirmable, fact that few, if any, persons suffering from functional nervous ailments sought in vain for relief through prayer or other spiritual media. It may take years of patient effort before the sufferer discovers the deep curative power of religion, but persistence is never without its reward in the end.

Golden Text: Hebrews 12:12, 13. (John 14:12) The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master healed the sick, practiced Christian healing, and taught the generalities of its divine Principle to his students; but he left no definite rule for demonstrating this Principle of healing and preventing disease. This rule remained to be discovered in Christian Science." 4-147.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP)—Most of the 40 or so college baseball coaches who'll meet here today and tomorrow are a bit wary under the collar from other things than the weather. . . . Two of their big handicaps are the snatching of their players by professional clubs and the insistence of football coaches on having the boys for spring practice during the baseball season. . . . But the sponsors of the meeting, Eppy Barnes and Joe Bedenk, realize that they won't get anywhere by quarreling with organized ball, with football coaches or with the athletic directors. . . . What they want to do is to make college ball strong enough to stand on its own feet before they tackle any of these long term improvements. . . . The prospects, look good, too, for every one of more than 100 coaches who replied to Barnes' invitations came out in favor of the organization and its aims.

Fish Story
The Iowa conservation letter re-lays this yarn of how a retired farmer, J. B. Huisman, went cat-fishing in the Iowa river. . . . After a long wait, Huisman hooked a big one and had it near shore when a muskrat grabbed the fish. . . . During the struggle, the cat-fish escaped and the muskrat was hooked. Then the Huisman family dog jumped in to tangle with the muskrat and got himself hooked while the rat got away. . . . Disgusted, the angler hauled in the dog, rolled up his line and went home. . . . Poor guy—he probably had to eat meat for supper that night.

Sedalian Member of Veteran Unit Returns to the States

15TH AAF IN ITALY—After a period of training and receipt of new equipment before jumping into the battle against Japan. The training and additional equipment has been made necessary because of the changed tactical situations which ground and air men of the group will experience in the Pacific theatre.

238 Missions
The group has flown 238 combat missions since entering the Mediterranean theatre of operations, having bombed such vital targets as Vienna, Austria; Wiener Neustadt, Austria; Munich, Germany; Ploesti, Rumania; coastal fortifications in southern France before D-day; as well as numerous other pin-point bombing on enemy troop concentrations in northern Italy.

In all, the group bombed over 126 different targets, dropping nearly 15,000 tons of bombs. Gunners destroyed 130 enemy airplanes, probably destroyed 53 and damaged 65 others.

The group has been authorized six battle participation stars and was awarded the war department Distinguished Unit Citation for its "outstanding performance of duty in bombing aircraft factories at Wiener Neustadt, Austria, in May. The group completed operations in the ETO with a perfect (700 per cent within 1,000 feet) bombing assault on Tarvisio Motor Transport depot in northern Italy.

Sedalian With Combat Patrol On Sortie Into Enemy Lines

WITH 24TH INFANTRY (VICTORY) DIVISION on Mindanao—Corporal Kenneth H. Neill, 1205 South Montgomery avenue, Sedalia, was a member of a twenty-five man combat patrol which made a four day sortie deep into Jap territory, had one instantaneous brush with the Nips and escaped unscathed.

The cavalrymen, driving seven miles in vehicles up a deep rutted road, cut their way into the intricate mesh of the jungle when the road reached an impasse.

The intense heat coupled with muscle binding hill climbing, razor edged grass and dense undergrowth, made the mission one of the most exhausting ever assigned to any unit of this Victory division. Constantly avoiding ambushes by the Japs, in imminent danger of being surrounded and wiped out, the patrol nevertheless went on to accomplish its mission.

Ravines, three hundred feet deep, barred their way at intervals so that progress was measured more vertically than horizontally. The men had to scramble down the sides of these gorges, lower the equipment and arms by ropes and plunge into the back breaking ascent on the other side.

Meet Six Japs
Six Japs were encountered soon after the patrol left the main road. They were fired at, two were wounded and scurried like huge rats into the wilderness, leaving their cooking food and equipment in wild abandonment.

One man was evacuated when he sagged in complete exhaustion. Water was dredged from rain water reservoirs near abandoned Nip houses. K rations were the sole bill of fare for four long, hazardous days. It rained every night, so that the men were constantly drenched by rain at night and sweat by day.

A dozen Jap patrols were sighted but the alert cavalrymen eluded them easily.

Upon returning to the troop area they were commended by Major General R. B. Woodruff, commanding general of this fighting 24th division for the acquisition of valuable information, their vigilant sojourn in enemy territory, their steadfastness in carrying out their mission and the diligent performance of duty.

Radio Industry Will Employ 4,500,000 Persons
ST. LOUIS, June 29.—(AP)—Joe Sepp Gerl, president of the Sonora radio and television corp., Chicago, said that the radio industry could be expected eventually to employ "as many as 4,500,000 persons."
Gerl, in a round table discussion last night, predicted that the industry which employed less than 100,000 persons before the war will add another 350,000 during the first three years after the war. "The industrial outlook is such that every man and woman who wants a job will have one during the next 10 years," he added.
